Distance learning in Aromatherapy

The Shirley Price Distance Learning course in aromatherapy has been designed for aspiring students who are not able to attend the in-house training that is offered by (SPICA).

The learning is assessed by means of course notes, background reading of appropriate text books (many of which are included in the course pack although several others may need to be purchased), and observation of massage techniques presented in a DVD.

The student will be required to complete each module, of which there are four, before proceeding to the next one, and will be required to submit written evidence to SPICA as directed.

Upon completion of the course and assessment session, the student will be awarded the SPICA Distance learning Diploma in Aromatherapy. Students are advised to take between 1 year minimum and 3 years maximum to complete all four modules (five if anatomy and physiology is required).

Whilst studying the DLC you are eligible to take out "Student membership" of the international Federation of Professional Aromatherapists (IFPA). www.ifparoma.org
